[sound of classic rockers reggae comes up and continues playing underneath Bambii speaking]

Bambii: Any sort of collective of people that are pushing a sound, pushing a culture, pushing [an] ethos around music, that's a sound system.

[music: Bambii's "NITEVISION" (feat. Pamputtae) comes in and fades under]

Bambii: And I think that when we look back historically at what a soundsystem was, people focus on the physical, but the fact of the matter is soundsystem culture was about politics.

Bambii: It was about individual people communicating with their community and people are still doing that. It just looks a bit different.

[music: Bambii's "NITEVISION" (feat. Pamputtae) continues to play as Pamputtae chats "boom it mi a boom it mi a boom."]
